

Estimated Annual Tax Revenue Distributions from I-502

YOUTH DRUG PREVENTION | $68,000,000
It's estimated that $67 million will go to the DSHS Division of Behavioral Health and Recovery for youth substance abuse prevention programs selected in consultation with the UW Social Development Research Group and Alcohol and Drug Abuse Institute. An additional $1.33 million will go to Building Bridges Programs to prevent and reverse student drop-out.

HEALTH CARE | $244,000,000
Approximately $222 million will be allocated to Washington's Basic Health Plan. The State's Health Care Authority estimates that these funds "could cover a five-year average of up to 83,000 enrollees." An additional $22 million will be allocated to Community Health Centers. The state estimates these funds could "provide services to up to 600,000 patients per year."

MARIJUANA PUBLIC HEALTH EDUCATION | $44,000,000
The Department of Health will receive approximately $44 million for marijuana education and public health programs. These will include a Marijuana Quitline and a local health department grants program that supports coordinated intervention strategies for youth. An additional $20,000 will go to the UW Alcohol & Drug Abuse Institute for web-based public educational materials about the health and safety risks posed by marijuana use.

PROGRAM ADMINISTRATION | $5,000,000
The Washington State Liquor Control Board will be allocated $5 million annually for the administration of I-502.

EVALUATION AND RESEARCH | $5,000,000
Approximately $5 million will be allocated for evaluation and research relating to I-502. $500,000 will fund the Washington State Healthy Youth Survey. $4.4 million will go to the UW and WSU for research on the short-term and long-term effects of marijuana use, including intoxication and impairment. The Washington State Institute for Public Policy will receive $200,000 for cost-benefit evaluations.

GENERAL FUND AND LOCAL BUDGETS | $216,000,000
The state general fund will receive approximately $182 million and an additional $34 million will go to local budgets. Expenditures from the Washington state General Fund can be used for any authorized state activity. Local governments control the allocation of funds from locally collected taxes.
